Our company, Northern Lights Canada is expanding and recently we opened a new corporate office in Oshawa. As the Project Manager responsible for the coordination of this new office, one of my responsibilities was to research and select a company who could provide us with the knowledge, scope and support for the phone systems needed for our growing company.

We called VoicePath and when Tony Nield contacted us, we never looked back.. Tony provided us with expertise and outstanding customer service from the first time we met with him. His initial visit to us included a professional and informative presentation of the services provided by VoicePath. Tony took the time to explain the possibilities for our new system and was able to answer all our questions. One of the most outstanding things that we found in working with VoicePath was the incredibly well organized approach that was evident in everything from the first point of contact through to the actual installation of voice, data drops and phone systems.

Throughout the phone systems aspect of this project there were many questions that came up along the way. No question was ever too small and we were always able to contact Tony quickly and were provided with the information needed. Tony's attention, dedication, training and follow up to us, was and continues to be invaluable. He exceeded our expectations in every way. I would recommend VoicePath as being a wonderful company to work with.
